

STORM SWEEPS NATION, CAUSING HEAVY LOSSES OF LIFE AND PROPERTY

DEATH TOLL MAY REACH AS HIGH AS 40 IN GEORGIA AND ALL REGIONS REPORT
HEAVY STORM.

CONTINUED UNSETTLED

Weather With Possibly Severe Cold Wave Is Prediction of Washington Weather Bureau for Next Two Days.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, March 14.—A storm of unusual proportions causing heavy rainfall and snow in practically every section of the country was central this morning at Charles City, Iowa, where the remarkably low barometer
of 28.86 inches was recorded.

Heavy rain continued in the southern states, in the middle Atlantic district and in some of the interior regions. In the northwest, particularly in Minnesota and South Dakota, considerable snow has fallen.

At the same time the cold wave is pushing southward over the Rocky Mountain region and northwestern states accompanied by severe northgales. Weather experts today said the indications were for continued unsettled weather in the Atlantic, Great Lake and upper Ohio valley regions, for the next two days.

Score May Be Dead.

Nashville, Tenn., March 14.—Reports of the storm which swept middle and western Tennessee yesterday afternoon indicate the death list may aggregate a score. The storm reached its fury in Benton county, sweeping a path from a quarter to three quarters of a mile wide. Lewis Williams, Robert King and the latter's daughter were killed there. Part of the house of Leonard Davis was blown two miles and his little daughter was carried two hundred yards.

A number of children were hurt
when a school house was blown down.
Three persons are reported to have been killed in South Berlin. Reports from Hardeman county today say that Mrs. Dock Mahone, whose husband was reported killed near Middletown,
died of fright after the storm.

Five Dead at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., March 14.—Latest reports received here today from the storm-swept sections of Madison and Henderson counties do not add to the list of dead. Five were killed and over a hundred rendered homeless.

At Lexington between 75 and 100
houses were practically demolished.
The dead: Mrs. Thorne and Green Thredgill of Lexington, Tenn.; three small children of Hubert Brown of Huron, Tenn. The small town of Camden, Timberlake, Huron, Life and Sharon suffered property loss.

Damage in Chicago.

Chicago, March 14.—It is estimated that the damage done by the severe wind and rain storm which swept Chicago and Illinois last night and early today will aggregate nearly one million dollars. In Chicago the wind attained a velocity of fifty miles an hour for several hours and thousands of plate glass windows and doors in all parts of the city were demolished.
Electric wires were blown down in many sections of the city and as a result many miles of streets were in darkness. Telegraph wires south and west were down and service impaired
for a number of hours.

At Quincy wires were blown down and many windows broken. Several large boats in the Mississippi river were torn from their moorings and many launches were swamped by the gale. Old-time river men declare that the waves in the river were higher than they remember in twenty years.

Other Illinois Reports.

At Spring Bay, Ill., fifty men and women who were attending a church service, were thrown into a panic
when the steeple of the structure fell.
Charles Gilpin, a farmer near Jacksonville died from injuries received when a large tree was blown down and struck his house.

At Whitehall a pedestrian was blown from a sidewalk and severely injured and a skating rink was demolished. Three persons were injured and considerable damage done to property near Jerseyville. Heavy damage was reported in Peoria, Woodford and Tazewell counties.

Five Dead at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., March 14.—Five known dead, at least a score injured and thousands of dollars loss today marked the path of the severe storm which swept the section just east of the city last night.

The storm cut a path about 100 yards wide and extended through De Kalb county. Today the devastated section is entirely cut off from wire communication and later reports it is feared will swell the list of casualties.
The dead include: William Bank and child, Clarkson; Mrs. Sally Nash and son at Tucker; unidentified negro at Tucker. The injured: E. S. Esna
Thomas, Tucker; two Thomas children, one fatally. Paul Thomas, Tucker; Mrs. H. L. Wing, Sylvester; G.
W. Malbon, Sylvester. Relief parties were sent out from here early today.

Six Dead.

Gadsden, Ala., March 14.—Six persons were killed by the cyclone which passed over this section of Alabama.
A train which left here early today was wrecked presumably by spreading rails near Round Mountain. The crews and passengers escaped injury.

Reports From Georgia.

Columbus, Ga., March 14.—A storm of cyclonic proportions struck here early today causing damage estimated at several thousand dollars. Two persons were reported killed. Buildings of the Eagle and Phoenix mills and the Swift Manufacturing company were partly demolished. Residences were blown down and street traffic demoralized.

Believe Eighteen Dead.

Rome, Ga., March 14.—Eighteen are reported dead and many more injured as the result of the storm which swept over northwest Georgia last night. The property damage was very heavy.

At Winona.

Winona, Minn., March 14.—Heavy rains last night caused much flood damage near Winona. At Sugar Loaf
the mill dam and two wagon bridges were washed out and at Minnesota
City a long wagon bridge was taken.
Small track washouts on the Great Western road have suspended service between here and Rochester. Trains east of here on the N. W. road are delayed by a washout at Wilton, Wis.

OFFERS DAVIES JOB IN WAR DEPARTMENT

Madison Man May Accept Position as Assistant Secretary of War
Under Wilson.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., March 14.—President Wilson this afternoon formally offered Joseph E. Davies, of Madison, secretary of the western democratic national committee the position as assistant secretary of war. Mr.
Davies has taken the offer under consideration.

STATE FAIR MEASURE PASSED BY ASSEMBLY

Will Seek New Location for the State Fair Outside of Milwaukee and Make Their Report.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, March 14.—After disposing of all amendments the assembly today ordered to enjoin the state commissioner to create a commission to select a new site for the state fair grounds. By a compromise agreed upon by Assemblymen Hurlbut and Everett, the membership is reduced from eleven to nine—six from the assembly and three from the senate.
The commission is to report to the legislature within thirty days.

Assemblyman Vint's joint resolution was adopted, memorializing congress to pave the way for election of federal judges by the people. The resolution granting house rule to Ireland was adopted. The bill providing that county judges in counties of 25,000 population must be lawyers was killed.

The assembly committee on public welfare reported for passage the Frederick bill authorizing the state to confiscate property used for immoral purposes. The senate committee on education and public welfare reported for passage the Glenn bill favoring a referendum on woman suffrage in 1914. Senator Teasdale failed to save his bill providing for a dry zone around and adjoining wet districts.

SUFFRAGETTES WOULD DESTROY PROPERTY

Invade Richmond District Painting
Names Out on House Doors—

Windows Broken.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, March 14.—The latest exploits of the militant suffragettes in London is the obliteration of the names on the gate posts of houses in the residential streets. Armed with pois of tar and brushes they raided
the Richmond district early today, disfiguring many houses.

The window smashing campaign was also resumed today in the Jewelry district on Bond street and on Holborn. The police arrested several women.

Miss Olive Hocken, arrested yesterday for attempting to set fire to a pavilion in Richmond Park, was released today on bail. She signed a contract to abstain from militancy pending her trial.

"SALMON DAY" OBSERVED
IN PACIFIC NORTHWEST

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Portland, Ore., March 14.—Colorado may have its salmon day but it has remained for this section of the country to add "salmon day" to the list of commercial holidays. By agreement of the salmon canners of the Northwestern states and British Columbia today has been set aside for the first annual observance of salmon day. Hotels, restaurants and dining cars throughout a large section of the country have agreed to give salmon a particularly conspicuous place on their menus for the day for the purpose of calling public attention to one of the greatest products of the Pacific Northwest, of which a total of more than 3,500,000
cases, or about 168,000,000 pounds,
are canned and shipped each year.

Marriage Licenses: Marriage licenses were issued today to Peter Helgestad of Albion, Dane county, and Berget Stalsberg of Edgerton;
and to Louis B. Randall of Superior, Wis., and Agnes Stack of Shandila, Mich.

FOND DU LAC SWEPT BY A HEAVY FLOOD FROM RAGING RIVER

Business and Residence Districts Suffer Heavy Damages When Ice Jams Dam Causing Serious Overflow.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Fond du Lac, Wis., March 14.—The business and residence sections of Fond du Lac are experiencing the worst flood of ice and water the like of which has not been seen here in ten years. Damage of many thousands of dollars has already been done and the river is still rising.
Ice jams in the east branch of the Fond du Lac river have backed up the flood waters of the surrounding country until they have overflowed the river's banks racing down the main streets to the city to the heart of the business district. A torrent of water swept the electric plant last night and the city was in darkness for hours.

The water works plant is flooded in five feet of water. Newspaper press rooms are swamped and practically out of commission.
Early today the Ellorodo dam west of here threatened to give way under the strain of water and ice coming down the river. Henry Stillman swam out to the flash gates, however,
and loosened new torrents toward the city.

All night the police have been at work rescuing families from their homes in row boats. In South street residents have been driven to the second stories of their homes. Water is running three and four feet deep in the streets. On Hickory street near the river the ice is piled as high as the second stories of houses.

Officials hesitate to dynamite the ice jams for fear of springing the water dammed up behind it suddenly with the danger that whole blocks will be swept away in the rush of water.

POLICE SEARCHING FOR MISSING WOMAN

Mrs. Clarkson, Wife of Chicago Minister, Who Eloped with Criminal, Sought.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, March 14.—Search for Mrs. Mable Clarkson, wife of the Rev. Nestor K. Clarkson of the White Cross Missionary Association, who disappeared Christmas eve with Owen D. Conn, a confessed burglar, now under arrest in San Francisco, continued today in Chicago and Milwaukee.
The finding of a letter recently sent to Conn gave rise to the report that the woman is now in Milwaukee is dubious.

According to information from California a letter from the woman dated at Milwaukee addressed to Conn was found among the effects of the prisoner. The writer pleaded for assistance and asked for $5,000, declaring she was ill and in danger of blood poisoning.

She said her board bill was unpaid and she expected to be turned out into the street unless she obtained money. In the Wisconsin city she is said to be known as Mable Ott.

Mrs. Clarkson's Story.

Milwaukee, March 14.—The police of Milwaukee have not been asked to locate Mrs. Clarkson.
"I had trouble with my husband four or five years ago and when he met Mr.
Conn and myself at Christmas time on a street in Chicago, he furnished us a revolver and I ran away," said Mrs.
Clarkson who is alleged to have deserted her husband, a minister, to flee with Owen D. Conn, a burglar under arrest at San Francisco when captured in Milwaukee today as she was about to take a train for Chicago.

Continuing Mrs. Clarkson said: "I was with Mr. Conn from that time until the following Saturday and then I left him. I have been in Omaha part of the time since and in Milwaukee four weeks at the home of a Milwaukee physician and his wife. I have other friends here also, but do not want to reveal their names."

"I realized my mistake a few days ago. I must have suffered from a brain storm. I was informed by Conn's parents who live on the south side that he had reformed and I supposed he had. He comes of a good family. When I decided to leave him he declared he would shoot me. He dared him to use them. I drew what money I had in the bank and left for Omaha."

"I am a stenographer, but have been unable to get work and several weeks ago went back to Chicago and telephoned my husband for permission to see the children. He refused and finally told me to go to ———. I had no understanding although I pleaded for the children's sake."

"I asked G. A. Bell of Chicago to intercede, but he refused. Any report that I still kept in touch with Conn is false. If I had access to the $100,000 worth of property which he is said to have stolen, I certainly would not have to plead poverty."

EPIDEMIC OF INFLUENZA IS RAGING IN VIENNA

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Vienna, March 14.—The most severe epidemic of influenza on record is prevalent in the Austrian capital.
Half a million cases have been reported during the past three months and the epidemic is still taxing the capacity of the hospitals, nursing institutions and physicians.

Whole families appear to be attacked simultaneously and persons of all ages are equally affected. The disease is of a peculiarly virulent type with serious after effects. Doctors hope the setting in of milder weather will diminish the outbreak.

MEXICO TURBULENT FIGHTING RESUMED ALONG THE BORDER

Federal Forces Bottled up by Overwhelming Force of Rebels at Naco Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Douglas, Ariz., March 14.—A battle against an overwhelming force of rebels, unconditional surrender or flight over the line into Arizona. These were the alternatives presented today to General Ojeda in federal commander who evacuated Agua Prieta a few days ago with the avowed intention of marching to Nogales and re-inforcing
the garrison there reached Naco during the night only to learn that Nogales had been captured by the con-stitutionalists.

Thus Ojeda with 500 federal regulars is bottled up at Naco with strong bodies of rebels closing in on him from east, west and south. A force of 400 constitutionalists under Elias Cales left Agua Prieta before daybreak today to pursue the federal general and later in the day, Profecho Braca Monte with 300 men departed on the same mission.

Border Quiet.

Laredo, Tex., March 14.—The Texan-Mexican border is quiet today.
The scene of the reported fighting in Mexico opposite the Texas line is 50 to 100 miles in the interior.

Rumor Denied.

Eagle Pass, Tex., March 14.—Carranza leaders in Piedras Negras possibly deny there is any truth in the report of capture and execution of Gov. Carranza. They claim to have received telegrams from him this morning.

Urges Huerta Support.

Naples, March 14.—Gen. Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico, who arrived here yesterday from Egypt, sent instructions today to his friends and followers in Mexico to support Provisional President Huerta and work for the re-establishment of peace throughout the republic.

GOLF CLUB HOUSE BURNS AT BEVERLY

Home of Essex Country Club Where Taft Played Golf for Past Four Summers Burns With $60,000 Loss.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Manchester, Mass., March 14.—The home of the Essex Country Club where ex-President Taft frequently played golf during his summers at Beverly was destroyed by fire early today with a loss of $60,000.
Two employees who slept in the building were seriously burned.
Cause of the fire is unknown.

NEW LAW TO HURT FROG "INDUSTRY"

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Ospokosh, Wis., March 14.—An effort to protect the frog by having a closed season of 7 months each year will do away with E. R. Neuenfeldt's "industry." He raises frogs and sends them to eastern cities for table delicacies.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT SENTENCE METED OUT TO MURDERER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Columbia, Mo., March 14.—Henry Lee Moore was found guilty in circuit court today of the murder of his mother and grandmother. The jury returned a verdict of murder in the first degree and fixed the penalty at life imprisonment.

EANKERS UNDER SENTENCE WILL FILE AN APPEAL

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New Orleans, La., March 14.—An appeal from their sentence of seven years at hard labor in the state penitentiary will be made tomorrow by Eugene F. Buhler and Joseph H.
Gomila, president and vice president, respectively, of the defunct Teutonia bank. The men were convicted of having received deposits after they knew the institution to be insolvent.

NEENAH PROVIDES NURSE TO CARE FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Neenah, March 14.—This city is attempting something that probably no other city of its size in the state is doing, that of having a school nurse to take care of the school children. The woman in charge of this work is a practical worker and uses discretion. She not only administers to their wants, but is cleaning up homes and making the city a better place physically and morally.
She preaches the doctrine of soap and water.

BIG CARNIVAL OF SPORTS TO OPEN IN ST. LOUIS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, Mo., March 14.—Never has an athletic meet in St. Louis brought together so many star performers as are entered for the big indoor meet to be held in the Coliseum tomorrow night under the auspices of the Missouri A. C.
Though the most of the entries are from the big athletic clubs and colleges of the middle west the list is not confined to this section of the country. The star runners of Yale, Cornell and Pennsylvania will be seen in the relay races, which will be the leading events on the program.

Pasadena, Cal., March 14.—The annual bench show of the Pasadena Gym Club opened today with an entry list including nearly all the prize-winning coaches that have been making the circuit of dog shows on the coast this winter. The show will continue over tomorrow.

ST. PAUL PASSENGER TRAIN IN WASHOUT WEST OF LA CROSSE

Fireman Killed, Engineer Fatally Hurt
And Others Badly Injured in Wreck Early Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

La Crosse, Wis., March 14.—Passenger train No. 8 on the Southern Minnnesota division of the C. M. & St. P. railway is partly in the Root river near Hokah, Minn., 12 miles west of here with the fireman dead, the engineer fatally hurt and other trainmen possibly injured, according to word received here early today.

The accident occurred about midnight when the train was running slowly and behind time, on account of spring freshets which frequently convert the Root from a small stream into another Mississippi, and went into a washout where a bridge had been carried away.

Fireman Knute Nelson of La Crosse was killed, and Engineer Charles Whiting probably fatally injured when the engine tipped over. The fate of the rest of the crew is in some doubt.
Precaution of the engineer, however,
saved his passengers while it did not save himself for the slow speed maintained at the time and reversal of power at the last moment prevented the engine and train going into deep water.

Though all the cars went into the washout no passengers were hurt according to reports at the division's offices. A relief train with doctors and nurses has been sent out from La Crosse to bring in the injured and work train has been rushed forward to repair the damage.

The relief train returned from the scene of the Root river wreck shortly before noon, bringing the body of the dead fireman and the injured engineer. Mrs. Alma Nelson, the wife of Newton Nelson, the fireman, rushed through the crowd at the station
when the train drew in and hurled herself with cries of grief on the body of her son. Nelson was 23.
Physicians in charge of the wounded engineer expressed the hope that he would recover.

A. U. P. Train.

Omaha, Neb., March 14.—Union Pacific passenger train No. 12, known as the Colorado Special, ran into the year of No. 4, the Atlantic Express,
this morning near Gothenburg, Neb., killing four persons and injuring 30
more, according to advices received here. The known dead are: Miss Edith Hoon, Cheyenne; Edwin J. Osterhout, traveling man, New York;
Mr. and Mrs. August Meyer, Denver, Ia.

The injured are from Iowa, Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota and Nevada.

In Wyoming.
Cheyenne, Wyo., March 14.—Three unknown stockmen, Conductor Phillips and brakeman Traddock of the Union Pacific are missing and presumably were killed in a rear end collision of freight trains near Herndon, Neb., today.

JUAREZ RACING MEET COMES TO A CLOSE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Ciudad de Juarez, Mexico, March 14.—After 100 days of racing the regular winter meeting of the Juarez Jockey club will come to an end tomorrow. The season has been one of the most successful in the history of the club. The fact that the city has been alternately in the hands of Federalists and rebels has not interfered with the regular program at any time. Racing will be continued informally at the track for several weeks as there is still some time to elapse before the owners care to start their horses for Jamestown, Louisville and Latonia.

VICE PRESIDENT MARSHALL FIFTY-EIGHT YEARS OLD

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., March 14.—
Vice President Marshall entered under his fifty-ninth year today, having been born March 14, 1853. The Vice President did not allow the anniversary to interfere with the regular routine of work that he has established since coming to Washington.
But the fact of the anniversary early came known about the Capitol early in the day and many senators and others dropped into the office of the vice president to offer their greetings.

SEISMOGRAPH RECORDS WASHINGTON EARTHQUAKE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, March 14.—Violent earthquake shocks, apparently originating within 1,500 miles of Washington, were recorded early today on the seismograph at Georgetown university. The vibrations began at 4:04 and continued until 5:22 o'clock.

GARAGE EXPLOSION CAUSES GREAT DAMAGE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Elmira, N. Y., March 14.—Fire which originated from a gasoline explosion in a garage, destroyed property worth $350,000, including the plant of the Elmhurst Telegram, the Knights of Columbus home, and the Amusement theatre. There were no casualties.

ing a loss of $150,000.

ADRIANOPLE STILL REPELS ASSAULTS

Turkish Fortress Continues to Help
The Bulgarians at Safe Distance.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, March 14.—A fierce but unsuccessful assault was made on the south front of the Turkish fortress of Adrianople last night according to a dispatch from Constantinople. The besieging Bulgarians and Servians sustained heavy losses and were eventually repulsed all along the line.

Albanians Shot Down.

Frankfort-on-the-Maine, Germany,
March 14.—Three hundred Albanian inhabitants of Liama in the Turkish province of Kosovo were shot without trial by Serbian troops yesterday
according to a dispatch from Uskup
to the Frankfort Gazette today.

"The inhabitants of the district, intalled 400," the dispatch says. "They were unarmed peasants and did not follow the example of the rest of the Albanians in fleeing to the mountains."
"All were captured by a column of Serbian troops who, after shooting 300 of them, brought the surviving 100 prisoners to Prisrend, the capital of the province."

QUADRUPE MURDER CASE IS ON TRIAL

Ray Pfanschmidt Accused of Taking Lives of Entire Family and School Teacher.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Quincy, Ill., March 14.—On Tuesday the case of Ray Pfanschmidt, accused of the Pfanschmidt quadruple murder, will be called for trial. The attorneys for the defense some days ago withdrew their motion for a continuance, and it is believed that both sides will answer "ready" at the first calling. Judge Guy R. Williams of Havana has been assigned to preside at the trial. Some of the best legal talent in this section of Illinois has been engaged in the case. Many witnesses are to be called and it is expected that the trial will occupy several weeks.

RIVER ROSE RAPIDLY DURING LAST NIGHT

Came Up Over Five Inches From Three P. M. Yesterday to Nine O'Clock This Morning.

More than five inches' rise in the level of the Rock river at this point was recorded between three o'clock yesterday afternoon and nine o'clock this morning, the height of the water over the government mark in the upper dam rising from 12 1/2 to 17 3/4 inches. The river rose only an inch over night at the Indian Ford power plant. The difference is attributed to the fact that the ice has not yet gone out of Lake Koshkonong which acts as a regulator of the stream flow from above that point. Meanwhile the Yahara river, Four Mile Creek and the drainage canal of the Evansville marsh have been discharging large volumes of water into the river below Indian Ford.

The ice is all out of the river between Janesville and the Ford, except the Yahara river, which is running over the crest of the Fulton dam at a depth of twenty-one inches, is also said to be free of ice. That coming down from Lake Koshkonong is not expected to cause any trouble as it is honeycombed and large quantities of it will be thrown upon shore. A launch passed up the river yesterday, the earliest opening of navigation in several years.

NOTE SUDDEN DROP IN THE BAROMETER

Storm Wave Now Central in Iowa is Heading This Way, According to Weather Reports.

Janesville people this afternoon noted the sudden drop in the barometer which read 28.50 at two o'clock this afternoon. This seems to indicate that the storm now central in Iowa is progressing in this direction and that a severe storm of either rain or snow may be expected late this afternoon or this evening. The reports from the Washington weather bureau state that the weather conditions will be unsettled for the next two days. A cold wave has started from the Rocky Mountains and is progressing in a southerly direction.

Janesville was visited by a heavy storm last night but no washouts or serious damage in this immediate vicinity were reported today.

CLOUD BURST AT GRATIOT CAUSES TRAFFIC DELAY

Train number 8 on the St. Paul line was delayed for over an hour this morning on account of the heavy rainfall at Gratiot which made all traffic late. This train, which should arrive here at ten-thirty and goes to Milwaukee, was one of the trains to be so delayed.

On the Northwestern line the passenger trains of the north were late because of the track being flooded at the junction of the Omaha and Wisconsin divisions. The roadbeds of both roads are flooded to a great extent, making all traffic slow and dangerous.

"FLYING SWITCH" DAMAGES THREE FREIGHT CARS

An attempt to examine a flying switch on the siding at the Wisconsin Sand and Gravel Company resulted in the damaging of three cars to an extent of about sixty dollars. At the time of the accident a switch engine was at work on the belt line and the employees of the Fisher warehouse took the brakes off a freight car and attempted to stop it before it reached the bottom of the grade. The car had gathered too much momentum and the result was that it crashed into three cars which were on the main belt line. The switchmen saw the car coming in time and fortunately no one was injured. The engines were torn off the freight car by the impact and the sides and trucks of the cars badly smashed.

Engine No. 4323 was damaged last night and the pilot was nearly lost from the trucks. In switching at the roundhouse the engine bumped into a freight car.

Fireman Raiffman has reported for work after a short layoff.

INVOLVED SITUATION DISCLOSED IN SUIT

Case of Michael Buob versus John L. Fisher Tried in Municipal Court Today.

Complications of an unusual nature were disclosed in the trial of the case of Michael Buob versus John L. Fisher, an action for replevin, in the municipal court today. According to the testimony presented Mr. Buob, it appears, agreed to furnish to Corwin S. Lawyer the sum of $500 for payment of a saloon license in Beloit in consideration of a note for $400, and an agreement with a Mr. Breslan for the remainder. Mr. Buob did this because an administrator for the estate of his son, the late William Buob, had not then been appointed. The note of Mr. Lawyer was given the condition that Mr. Breslan make the contemplated agreement, and it is the contention of Mr. Lawyer that the failure to do so invalidates the note. This note was left in the possession of John L. Fisher, the defendant in the action for replevin of the note. Corwin S. Lawyer conducts a saloon at Beloit for the Buob Brewing company. Attorney Charles Pierce appeared for Mr. Fisher, and Attorney Edward Carpenter for Mr. Buob, the plaintiff. George Esser was the principal witness other than the contending parties.

TEACHERS TO HOLD MEETING AT BELOIT

Large Delegation of Janesville Pedagogues to Attend Session of County Association.

Janesville teachers will be well represented at the annual meeting of the Rock county teachers' association which will be held at the Beloit high school building tomorrow. Members of the high school and county training school faculties as well as the graded school teachers will attend the meeting which opens with a general session at 9:30 in the morning. Another general session will be held at 1:30 in the afternoon and at two o'clock the sectional meeting will be called.

The most important business of the meeting is the election of officers which is scheduled for the afternoon meeting. The present officers of the association are: Miss Anna Duggan, Beloit, acting president; Miss Edna Flemingway, deputy county superintendent; Janesville, secretary; and Miss Ella Jacobson, Janesville, treasurer. The executive committee which has charge of the meeting and arranged the program is composed of Supt. H. C. Buell, Janesville; Supt. F. E. Converse, Beloit and Supt. O. D. Antisdal, Janesville.

Several Janesville teachers will take part in the day's program. Miss Margaret Paterson, principal of the Washington school will be the leader of the English section; Supt. Antisdal will be the leader of the history and civics section; Prof. F. J. Lowth will give an address on "Teaching History and Civics," and Miss Edna Tonn will read a paper on "Music and Games," in the kindergarten and primary section. Miss Mary Buckmaster is also on the program in the primary section.

Three hundred or more teachers will be in attendance at the meeting as the rural teachers as well as the village and city school teachers are members of the association. Special arrangements for a cafeteria luncheon have been made by the Beloit committee. This will be served at the Episcopal church next to the high school, 12:00 to 1:15.

CIRCULATE PETITIONS FOR ANOTHER TRAIN

Better Service Between Janesville and Fond du Lac Desired—Noon Train South.

Petitions for an additional train between Fond du Lac and Janesville are being circulated in the towns on the Northwestern line between those two cities. It is desired that the new train leave Fond du Lac at 12:10 o'clock in the afternoon for Janesville, leaving this city for Fond du Lac at about 5 p. m. It is complained that the present service, consisting of one train a day that leaves Fond du Lac in the morning and returns in the evening, is inadequate. A petition circulated in Fond du Lac Wednesday afternoon had about one hundred signatures, and it is said that they are being signed freely in the smaller towns on the line, especially those that depend almost entirely upon the Northwestern railway for their service.

Ten Townships Settled: Ten townships have settled for their county taxes with County Treasurer F. E. Livermore. The treasurers close their books today which will mean a final settlement with the remaining tax districts within the next few days.

FORD, Snappy Clothes

FRIDAY.

Sport Snap Shots

by Dan McCorty

Manager Frank Chance of the New York Yankees, training down at Bermuda, is commencing to pat himself on the back over the possession of what looks like a pair of remarkably clever young left-handed pitchers. Al Stutz in the southern, and Chester Hoff in the New England Leagues last year were rated the best southpaws in their circuits and ranked close to leading all hurlers. Both are big and have good control and speed. Hoff, in a trial with the Yankees two years ago, celebrated by fanning on three pitched balls the first man opposed to him.—Ty Cobb.

Jake Stahl is the reminiscent ball player. He's going to stop off with the champion Boston Red Sox, for two games early in April with his old Illinois University team at Urbana. He is especially anxious to point out the old trace in center field into which he knocked a home run with three Michigan men on bases in 1901.

Another holdout has come into the fold. Rube Marquard, demon southpaw who won nineteen straight games for the New York Giants last season is said to have thought better of his oft-repeated determination to stay on the stage rather than accept the terms Manager McGraw offered him. He is expected to report March 20. He got a lot of perfectly good pressage stuff out of it at any rate.

Pitcher Allen of the Brooklyn Superbas is showing great form in spring training. In four innings of a practice game recently he did not allow a hit. Yet, last season, out of twenty starts he was given credit for three victories and nine defeats. He, like many others would appear to be a sort of a night-blooming crocus of baseball who fails to show in the glare of a real pennant race.

A greater runner even than Ted Meredith, Mercersburg Academy hero who was the hero of the 1912 Olympic games, is thought to exist in the person of another Mercersburg boy, Arthur Robinson, who did not lose a race last year, running the hundred yard dash in ten seconds consistently, the 220-yard dash in 22.15 seconds, and the quarter-mile in fifty seconds. Veteran trainers say that he is faster than the sensational Meredith at any distance from 50 to 440 yards and that he is the one sprinter in the country who seems to have a chance to break the old record set by Duffy and Kelly of 100 yards in 9.5 seconds.

Ty Cobb, world's greatest ball player, indignantly denies that his section of the Detroit Tiger holdout club has given in to president Navin and acceded to the pay offered. It had been reported that he, Dubuc and Stange would come into the fold, leaving Sam Crawford out in the cold. Ty says no such thing is in the air, and that he isn't worrying, anyway, because he hadn't expected to report to the Tigers before April, in any event.

CANTILLON INVESTS IN BALL PARK SITE

Former Janesville Man, Now Minneapolis Ball Magnate, Closes Important Chicago Deal.

Older residents of Janesville who were acquainted with M. E. Cantillon, now president of the Minneapolis baseball club and prominent magnate of the American Association, will be interested in the report of a deal just closed by which Mr. Cantillon, together with several association club owners becomes the owner of a prospective baseball park site in Chicago. The plot is located on the north side and is considered an excellent location for a ball ground.

A few years ago, when there was talk of the American association expanding, President Cantillon, Edmund Archambault, George Tebeau and Charles Havenor purchased this land. It is splendidly situated for baseball purposes, near the elevated road, and was looked upon as a good speculation with baseball entirely eliminated.

The fact of the matter was that this land was purchased as a war move, and at the time it was thought that the Association would use it for a Chicago club if it became necessary. The war spirit died down, but the property did not decrease in value. A year ago Havenor died and the other holders of the property have recently purchased the Havenor holdings and, according to report, Tebeau has relinquished his interest to M. E. Cantillon and Edmund Archambault of Milwaukee the latter being a brother-in-law of M. E. and Joseph and a silent partner in the Minneapolis club.

The ground has been leased and will be retained by the Minneapolis club folks as an investment—and on such terms as would probably permit of its quick converting into a ball yard should occasion arise.

HIGH SCHOOL FIVE MEETS ALUMNI IN GAME TONIGHT

Tonight at seven-thirty, the local high school basketball five will close their season on the home floor in a game with the Alumni. This game was not thought of up to a few days ago, as the locals had expected to play Baraboo last night. This game was cancelled by the northwesterners, and the locals wished a game for this week, in order to be in good condition for the state meet. After looking up the Alumni, it was thought a game might be scheduled for tonight. This proved successful, and the locals will make great efforts to win from the old grads. The supporters of the high school five, will signify their desire to have the locals win the state championship by being present at the game tonight. A good game can be assured. The proceeds will be used to purchase the team sweaters, to improve their appearance at the tournament.

The lineup for the high school tonight will be as follows: Alwood, 1; Patton, c. f.; Hemming, c.; Elder, 1; g.; Capt. Falter, r. g.

NOMINATION PAPERS OF TWO CANDIDATES

For County Superintendency Are Filed With County Clerk This Afternoon.

Nomination papers for the two candidates for the office of county superintendent of schools, Supt. O. D. Antisdel, who seeks re-election, and Prof. Frank M. Jack of Beloit, were filed this afternoon at the office of county clerk E. W. Lee. Mr. Jack's papers contained 250 signatures and Mr. Antisdel had 360 signers. The signatures will be reviewed by the county clerk to make certain as to the legality.

Next Monday, March 17, is the last day for filing nomination papers for the spring election which will be held Tuesday, April 1st. None of the four candidates for the office of county judge had filed papers up to three o'clock this afternoon.

C. P. CARY.

At the coming election, April 1, the voters of the state of Wisconsin have the opportunity of voicing their sentiments on the question of the election of a superintendent of public instruction. For this office C. P. Cary of Madison, present occupant of the office, is a candidate for re-election. His qualifications for the position are set forth so clearly in his statement to his friends throughout the state that it is published below and most heartily endorsed. Mr. Cary is a man whom the state can not afford to lose the services of and he should be given a rousing endorsement.

Ten years ago the people of this state took the office of state superintendent of schools out of politics, placed the election in the spring along with judges of the supreme court, and provided by law that no candidate for the office should be permitted to use any party name in pressing his candidacy. The purpose doubtless was to give professional dignity, independence and a reasonable degree of permanence to the position.

The state superintendent has kept the office out of politics—not always an easy task. He and his assistants have devoted themselves strictly and with their best energies to the educational matters that come within the sphere of duties and responsibilities of the office. The office is working with the best of team work for the educational welfare of the state. The following are a few of the things the department has stood for, and with the help of the people much progress has been made.

1—Properly trained teachers. To this end efforts have been made to foster courses for the training of teachers in numerous institutions—county training schools, country school courses in normal schools, a training course in the state university, etc.

2—Better sanitary conditions in all schools, particularly country schools where such attention was most needed. Hundreds of schools have been ventilated and other sanitary precautions taken.

3—Better equipment, particularly in country schools. Hundreds of schools have made great improvement in the past few years in this direction.

4—The adaptation of courses of study to meet community needs in all schools.

5—The freedom of schools from domination by higher institutions of learning.

6—Social center work, particularly in country communities.

7—Consolidation of country districts where this is feasible.

8—Vocational and part time schools, particularly for those who have been under the necessity of leaving the regular school at an early age.

9—Improved conditions and better public sentiment in general by means of school board conventions, bulletins, etc.

10—Improved school architecture, particularly country schools. Plans have been furnished free to school districts with this view.

11—The teaching of agriculture in the country schools, state graded schools and high schools.

12—The teaching of domestic science and other practical subjects.

This list might be easily increased. Never in an equal period in the history of the state has there been so much educational activity and so much educational progress as in the past ten years. Every intelligent citizen of the state realizes this when he comes to think about it. Each of the above twelve numbered statements contains a long story of intense activity on the part of this department, and this is only a fraction of what has been accomplished.

SPRING CLEAN-UP.

Now that the snow and ice is all cleared from the walks through the kind services of Dame Nature, the unsightly ash piles and refuse of the winter are disclosed, and it is time to talk of a genuine spring clean-up. While it may be a trifle early to begin a systematic campaign in this direction, still it is not too soon to talk about it and urge all property owners to remove all unsightly rubbish as soon as possible. Janesville is going ahead this spring and from now on the watchword should be "Boost your home city." And this is a good way to start the crusade, not only from a sanitary viewpoint, but from one of civic pride.

NOT PESSIMISTIC.

The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin believes the Gazette has taken too pessimistic a view of the attitude of the present state legislature. The Gazette is only judging by past experiences, of former legislatures, when it was an honor to be a member and the primary inquiry had not placed politics in the same class as any commercial industry. There are strong men in the present legislature but their presence is practically nullified by the horde of active politicians who swarm the halls of the two houses and really dictate the legislation.

Merritt Chance, after fifteen years' tenure of office under the republicans, now lands a good job in the Postoffice department. Still, with a name like that, he ought always to be able to win, both coming and going.

The ground hog appears to be very groggy as the sixth round comes on the stage and it is hoped that he will be knocked out for good and his backed. Winter, dismissed for at least nine months.

Colonel Gorgas, who made the canal zone healthy, is about to perform the same service for Ecuador. But why doesn't he first tackle Mexico?

With onions selling at 15 cents a bushel there's no perceptible increase in the practice of smothering things in them.

Two donkeys are walking from Portland, Me., to Portland, Oregon. The one that bet wrong on the election will lead the other.

When everybody agrees that one standard of morals is enough for both men and women the next question will be which standard.

Captain Amundsen says the high cost of living could be satisfactorily reduced by eating dog meat. No, captain, not satisfactorily.

Tureky, as the result of long practice, does it better than Mexico. His exiled grand vizier, Kiamil Pasha, died of "apoplexy."

The question now arises, will the militant suffragists permit England to celebrate Guy Fawkes' day in the customary manner?

If Huerta really desires to put an end to fighting in Mexico, why doesn't he establish a pension bureau?

It looks as though the mobilization of the snow shovel on the street frontier may soon be called off.

Nobody in Mexico is clamoring for a law which will legalize prize-fighting across the Rio Grande.

According to the census, there are 125,000 idiots in the country. But only one kind were counted.

Turkey is hesitating between the firing line and the bread line these days.

Receive Call: The police were notified by telephone early this afternoon that a drunken man was stumbling all over the railway tracks between the Monterey bridge and the overhead bridge, and it was feared that he could be struck by a train. Chief of Police George Appleby and Patrolman Panning drove out to make an investigation and after finding him brought him to the station. The police had not been able to find out who he was this afternoon because of his condition.

SPUR OF THE MOMENT

The Handy Man.
Bill Simms was quite a handy man at any sort of trick.
Could tinker up a balky watch or fix a windmill quick.
Could whittle fancy ornaments or doctor up a calf.
Or shoe a horse with lightning speed or run a phonograph.
An artist too with chalk or brush quite wonderful was he.
The only thing Bill couldn't draw was just a salary.

Bill Simms could make a dandy churn that surely did the work. Could build an automobile that would run without a jerk.
Could make a set of bobslings that would always run as slick as grease.

Could cut a pair of trousers that would always hold their crease. But one thing that Bill couldn't make at all, to save his life—He couldn't make a livin' for himself and kids and wife.

Bill Simms could play the violin and almost any horn.
Could imitate each bird or beast that ever had been born.
The folks kept him busy doing odd jobs and all such.

He had no time to settle down in order to get rich.
His neighbors all asked favors and he never turned one down.
And Bill spent his declining years in livin' on the town.

Caught on the Fly.

It is almost time to return your neighbor's soapstone griddle and borrow his ice cream freezer.

It is said there are only two men school teachers in New Hampshire. It keeps all the men in New Hampshire busy trying to plant seeds by shooting them into the ground with shotguns.

A food shark says there is more nourishment in two eggs than in a porterhouse steak, but he does not explain how a person is going to get the two eggs.

The eastern paper which solemnly announces that the English suffragets are smashing windows, probably means widows.

The time is approaching when the ardent swain must choose between the young spring onion and his sweetheart.

A Kansas woman wants a divorce because her husband is always quoting poetry. This should be classed an extreme cruelty.

Two or three aviators are now preparing to fly across the Atlantic. Probably from Long Island to Boston.

Dr. Wiley again declares the use of tobacco is very harmful. This, of course, does not include cigars.

A Very Handy Machine.

One of our anonymous friends has sent in the prospectus of a new machine that he has just invented. He calls it the "most ingenious contrivance ever sprung upon an unsuspecting public."

"By the simple twist of the wrist," according to the gentleman's claim, "it can be converted into any one of the following useful articles: buck-plug, monkey wrench, stove lifter, glass cutter, scroll saw, safety razor, button, bottle washer, button hook, cherry pitter, weather vane, paint brush, gas lighter, ice tong, belt buckle, horse clipper, lunch basket, handcuffs, bit stalk, flour sifter, auto crank, ink stand, nail file, corkscrew, vacuum cleaner, carry comb, boot-jack, carpet stretcher, nutmeg grater, potato masher, screwdriver, meat chopper, rolling pin, tack hammer, electric bell, padlock shoe last, music rack, flower pot, egg beater, cold chisel, ketchup strainer, fish scaler, oil can, paperweight, rat trap and cigar clipper, and its very presence in the house wards off flies, rats, mice and other vermin, including bill collectors and book agents."

If this machine will do all that is claimed for it, our anonymous correspondent has his fortune made. No home could possibly be complete without it as it will apparently do anything but secure a divorce. If the man who sent in the prospectus will kindly forward his name, we will be glad to recommend him to the Amurals club forthwith.

Duchess de Talleyrand.

The former Anna Gould, now Duchess de Talleyrand, is anxiously awaiting the decision of the Roman, a papal court, on her former marriage with Count Boni de Castellane. A recent decision of the court favored annulment, while an early decision was against it. The third hearing, to come in May, will settle the matter. The Princess is fighting annulment for the sake of her children.

Spring Fashions:

Blooming in Charming profusion at The Big Store. It only needed the first touch of that magic worker, Spring, to bring about a condition in this store for which we had made every preparation to accommodate. Today every department devoted to Fashion was crowded. A tacit acknowledgment and recognition of the style leadership of this store, and which has been won on merit alone. Judging by past achievements in Fashion's domain Expectancy prophesied great things at The Big Store this spring and Expectancy has not been disappointed. Today this store invites you to a display of fashions as distinctive as exclusive as irresistibly charming and beautiful as can be seen anywhere. More lavish displays there may be, but none that have been selected with greater discrimination or in more thorough attune with the tastes of our patrons than this.

What I Do For My Patients.

While many, very many, dentists plod right along old ways trying to forget the fact that their work is hurting. (The patient isn't forgetting it by any means.)

You will find my ways very different in this respect. I am now able to drill out and fill the most sensitive cavities absolutely without pain to you.

Don't pass this lightly by as mere advertising talk. It is true, absolutely true.

Dentists from long distances are coming to my office to look into this wonderful thing. It would pay you to do so.

INVESTIGATE STREET OILING AT MADISON

Mayor Fathers, Councilman Cummings and City Engineer Kerch Visited Capitol City Yesterday.

That Janesville does not want any cheap oil applied on its streets was the decision reached by Mayor Fathers, Councilman Cummings and City Engineer C. V. Kerch, who returned last evening from Madison where they spent the afternoon investigating the experience of that city in the use of different kinds of asphaltic oil.

Through the courtesy of City Engineer Eustace, Parker the Janesville officials were given an automobile ride over practically all the oil-paved streets in Madison. The asphaltic content of the oil appeared to consist principally of free carbon and worthless sediment that ground up under traffic and was finally blown and washed away.

Kansas asphaltic oil and a patented product known as "Tarvia" was used on a number of Madison streets two and three years ago and was found very satisfactory. Both left a coat of asphalt on the surface of the pavement that prevented its erosion and has worn very well even under heavy traffic.

Madison last year contracted for low priced oil which gave very disappointing results. Although it was thick and heavy, it did not have the dust-laying qualities, the penetration, binding and wearing qualities of that used in the two years previous.

At the direction of Mayor Fathers City Engineer Kerch has been making a test of the samples of oil submitted, in as far as the facilities at his disposal will permit. The viscosity test demonstrates very conclusively the difference in the binding qualities of different oils. A drop of the best will trickle from the end of a wire in a stream as fine as a hair, while the poorer oil will not draw in a thread at all. The percentage and purity of asphalt in the street oil are the only qualities in which the city is interested the rest being volatile and of no value to it.

Washington street will probably be the first street to be oiled this spring as the pavement is new and the city officers are anxious to demonstrate the value of oil as a preservative of heavily traveled water-bound macadam. The city will probably contract for not less than 75,000 gallons of oil.

SANITATION EXPERT GOES TO EQUADOR

Col. William C. Gorgas.

Colonel William C. Gorgas, chief sanitary officer of the Panama Canal Commission and the man by whose methods of sanitation the digging of the "big ditch" was made possible, has been given permission by the senate to enter the service of the republic of Ecuador. He will take his corps of assistants with him. The city of Guayaquil will probably be cleaned up first as this port will become an important point with the opening of the canal.

STATE BUDGET PLAN OUTLINED IN BOOK

New System As Explained by S. Gale Lowrie Expected to Produce Greater Economy and Efficiency.

Madison, Wis., March 11.—Wisconsin's plan for a state budget, described as a new policy among American states, is made the subject of a volume of 250 pages issued by the state board of public affairs, written by S. Gale Lowrie. Although approaching the English system, it is not expected the plan will work with the perfectness attendant upon that system, as the Wisconsin budget does not have the centralized authority and responsibility from the time the appropriations are planned through their adoption and actual expenditure.

The Wisconsin budget is the conception and final achievement of the state board of public affairs and has been worked out since the 1911 legislature closed. It provides a plan whereby all members of the legislature have full knowledge at all times of the fiscal situation of the state, and sufficient information to base their plans before any action or judgment is required of them. Mr. Lowrie maintains that full control is the given them with respect to fiscal transactions, and that in addition the experience and judgment of those who actually administer the affairs of state in the various departments are brought into use to the fullest extent.

Under the old plan in this state, the appropriations were lacking in uniformity, the appropriation bills being reported from the finance committee separately and each considered upon its merits with but little regard to the other demands upon the state treasury or upon the resources available for payment. When the budget plan was determined upon, the board of public affairs sent blanks for estimates to all the state departments and institutions asking them to state their needs thereon for the next fiscal period. These were tabulated and presented to the finance committee. Under the law creating the board of public affairs, all departments are required to submit estimates of their needs to this board thirty days before the regular session. In this way all this material will be prepared and tabulated for the use of the legislature before it convenes. A tentative budget will then be prepared, sent to all members before the session opens, and be given to the press in order that publicity may be had. This is intended to give to every member, before the session begins, information which under the present system is known by a few members of the finance committee, and to them only toward the close of the session.

Of these estimates and information Mr. Lowrie says:

"The information thus submitted to the legislature under this plan contains, first, a history of the past appropriation; information as to what the appropriation was; the actual cost of each department for the one complete year for each of the various services performed by the department, and the unexpended appropriation. Secondly, it will show the request of the department and the estimates of their needs for the ensuing biennium; give citations to statutes authorizing payments to be made from the treasury in favor of each department and the recommendations of the board with respect to the appropriations to be made by the legislature. The amount covered in these recommendations is the part which must be made law. Inasmuch as a large proportion of the appropriations are already in force by virtue of existing statutes the only requirement to be met by statute will be the modifications of these appropriations to fit new needs or situations. Where the appropriations are to be continued as they previously existed, no change is needed, but new services or changes in old appropriations should be indicated."

Mr. Lowrie also points out that it is not essential that all appropriations should be made at every session of the legislature, and how a great advantage lies in the system of continuing appropriations for permanent services. It is therefore important that the appropriating body make a periodic review of all state grants to determine the wisdom of their continuance.

Mr. Lowrie's book, opening with a discussion of the increase in the cost of government and its causes, treats of the preparation of the estimates and the vote on the budget, the continuing appropriations, the relation of the executive to the budget, budgetary procedure in England, Germany, France, Switzerland, Belgium, Canada, and the American congress and a detailed review of the budgetary practices in the American states.

INTERURBAN PILE DRIVER BROUGHT TO JANEVILLE

Powerful Electric Machine Being Used To Drive Piles For Extension Of Freight Station Siding.

The big electric pile driver of the Rockford & Interurban Railway was brought to this city yesterday and put to work driving piles in the river for an extension of the freight station siding west on Prospect avenue. The extension is made so that two cars can stand on the siding, while a third is at the loading platform. The pile driver is an adjunct to the machine which is built for the purpose of operating a shovel in construction work and in the company's gravel pits. A number of men accompanied the machine from Rockford to sharpen the piling and extend the grade.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

MAGAZINES.

(By Howard L. Rann.)

A MAGAZINE is a work of art which consists of a passionate love story entirely surrounded by paid advertising. The more advertising there is in a magazine the less the reader gets for his money and the longer the serial story infests the pages.

Magazines are published by philanthropic individuals who pant loudly in their efforts to uplift their fellow men at $1 per year. No magazine is supposed to fulfill its mission unless it contains several pages exposing the malefactors of great wealth or revealing the criminal formula of the headache tablet. It is getting so that men who are prominent in church circles can't steal a few million acres of the public domain without being written up by some magazine in language which raises large welts on the victim's hide. This is the rankest sort of persecution, and is calling forth loud yelps from some of our most pious and influential citizens.

The illustrated magazines sell better than those which are full of deep thought and not much else except stirring appeals to invest in a new brand of underwear. The more violently a magazine is illustrated the better it sells. Some of these illustrations become so piquant that father keeps his copy down at the office and tells the children that his subscription has expired. Many of the serial stories in the average magazine would not be intelligible at all if it were not for the accompanying illustrations, which aim to do full justice to the subject by portraying the heroine in nine different poses and styles of girdles.

Women's magazines are those which tell how to make the basque skirt, build a six-room bungalow for $250, not including labor or material, prepare fancy desserts with nothing in the house but sour milk and bread crumbs and maintain a flower garden without allowing the fingers to come in contact with work. These magazines cause a good deal of home-made dyspepsia, but in other respects are very valuable.

LETTER TO MOTHER MAY CONVICT CLOWN

Mrs. Lillian Beatrice Ryall (top) and Charles Cramer.

The state of Illinois depends upon a letter written to his mother by Charles Cramer, alias Conway, a circus clown, to convict him and his so-called wife who calls herself Mrs. Lillian Beatrice Ryall Conway, of the murder of the Baltimore heiress, Miss Sophia Singer, in Chicago last October. Conway's note to his mother reads: "Dear Mother: I am all right and don't worry. I did not intend to kill her. I figured that I would only injure her. She was armed with a razor and attempted to kill me. I had to do what I did. I knew she was dangerous and had to protect myself. (Signed) CHARLES."

The Theatre

IN THE COLORS OF NATURE.

One of the greatest pleasures in life is touring; next to that is to "tour" with Lyman H. Howe. It is for this reason that the return engagement of his Travel Festival at the Myers Wednesday and Thursday on March 26 and 27, matinee Thursday visualizing the latest events of moment and new scenes of beauty, is cause for felicitation. No other attraction before the American public has made such tremendous strides as this.

None has attained such unbounded popularity. None has witnessed a more remarkable broadening in its field of usefulness. In the most literal sense it is a living pageant of man's life and activities today. The whole world is its stage and all mankind its players. It perpetuates the intense moments of history with a degree of realism that is paralleled by no other exhibition. Its educational value is enormous. Its scope is unlimited. Especially is this true since Mr. Howe has intensified the realism of his success by presenting most of them in the true colors, as well as the action of life and natural phenomena. Those who have not seen his new program can form no idea of the charm and surpassing beauty of this innovation. So perfectly are the colors of nature reproduced down to the minutest detail, that as the spectator gazes at them, he finds it almost impossible to believe they are not actualities. If any reader doubts that these scenes do not afford an all-sufficing means of seeing all that is worth while, those doubts will be dispelled by a legion of wondrous reproductions of the form, motion and color of life presented simultaneously.

THOS. W. ROSS IN THE ONLY SON

Winchell Smith's newest play, "The Only Son," comes to the Myers Theater for special return engagement, Friday evening March 14.

Mr. Smith has a reputation as a builder of plays that, while intensely human and absolutely interesting, never offend. Therefore a new product of his resourceful mind cannot other than command the earnest attention of amusement seekers. In "The Only Son" Mr. Smith will present a big theme, and one that makes strong appeal to fathers and mothers, but which will be found interesting to their children as well. This author's adroitness in play construction, evidence of which has been supplied many times in the past, has won him a following that found healthful, not to say educational amusement in viewing his famous comedy, "The Fortune Hunter," a play of commanding worth by reason of the moral it taught. Therefore the doctrine of practice of the duties of domestic life which Mr. Smith will present in "The Only Son" will undoubtedly receive profound attention. Winchell Smith's cleverness in the art of playwriting lies in the fact that he presents these welcome lessons in an atmosphere of laughter, an art indeed.

T.P. BURNS DRY GOODS & CARPETS SUITS • COATS • MILLINERY What the best dressed women will wear this spring The tailor-made suit will probably have a jacket in cut-away model, and in the most approved form the back of the jacket will hang two or three inches lower than the front. The side-buttoning style is still good, and the narrow skirt is as correct as ever, except that this spring's models have a little more fullness at the hips, with perhaps a little "draping" effect Coats for wear over dresses are a trifle shorter than last season—45 to 50 inches, except the mannish, "sport" coats, which go to full 54 inches, with a tremendous "flare" at the bottom. Eponge, mistral canvas and the new "Knitted" or toweling cloth weaves are much used in coats, and light grays, pure white and black and white are especially approved. Of course the sturdy serges, in various novelty weaves and wales, in tans, grays and blue, are as correct as ever for utility coats. All of which—and more in detail—is magnificently demonstrated in the carefully selected garments in our present showing. An exposition of the true, approved styles in women's wear, shown in moderately priced garments—notably in the famous makes of coats, suits and skirts we carry. Come in and see.

When Women Who Appreciate the Importance of Being Well Dressed Are Thinking of

New Clothes For Spring

And is just the time when YOU should see the new styles and learn where the best values can be had. APPEARANCE COUNTS. It is important that you dress well. It is equally important that you get the best values possible for the money you invest in clothes.

It was clearly demonstrated at our Fashion Show that one could dress well at a comparatively small cost. Dressing well means neither more nor less than dressing suitably and sensibly, the accomplishment of which is exceedingly easy, when you have the right kind of clothes to select from and the right kind of a dealer to help you make your choice and see that you get properly fitted.

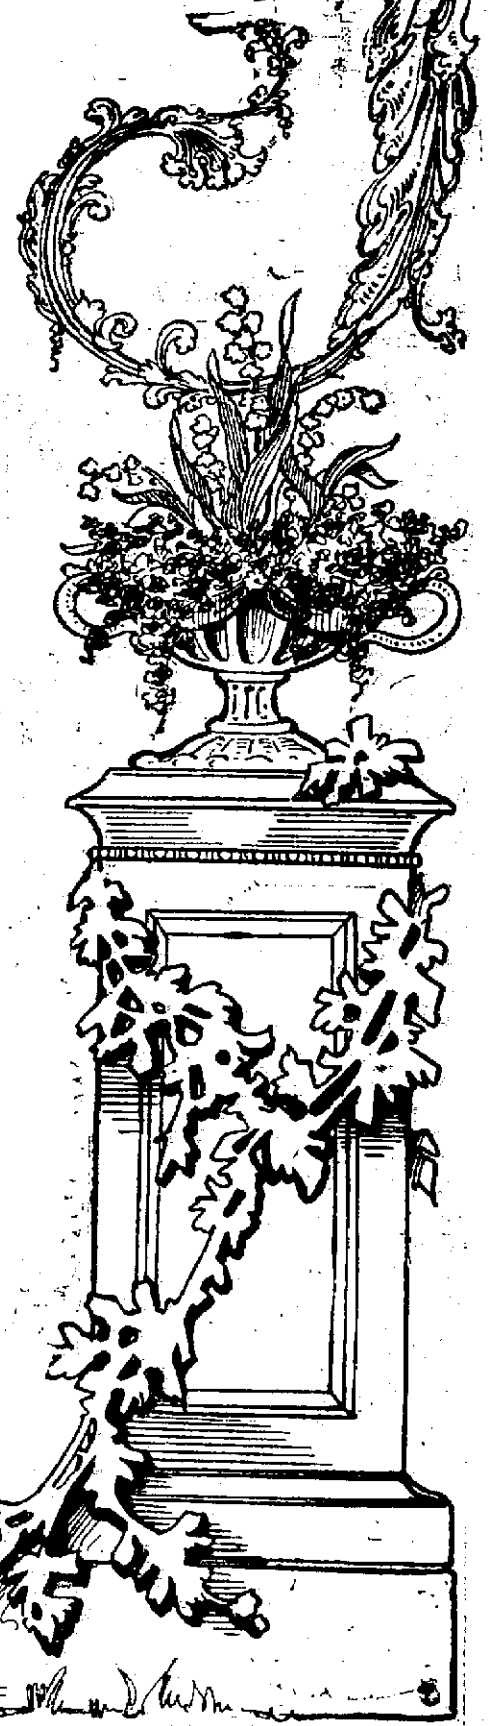

In all lines of ready-to-wear apparel for Women, Suits, Coats, Dresses and Millinery, we show none but the most dependable makes, merchandise which we can recommend with full confidence that they will make friends for us. We are showing everything a woman wears from hats to hose; assortments large enough, qualities good enough and prices low enough to please all who appreciate the value of good goods.

We have a daylight store and courteous salesladies to wait upon you. COME, we will make it a pleasure for you to do your trading with us.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

ON ARGUING.

I LOVE an argument. Like the unforgettable Sarah Battle, I can wish for nothing better of a winter evening than "a clear fire, a clean heart, and the rigor of the game." Only in my wish the game should not be cards, but that infinitely more fascinating game of wits known as argument.

I think children should be taught to argue, and classes of logic should be held in our grammar schools instead of being confined to the last two years of a college course. For there is no defect more strikingly common among people of moderate education than the lack of ability to reason clearly and to keep to the point.

All of which, by the way, is beside the point I started to make, so I am hoist with my own petard.

What I started to say was that I love an argument as well as any man or woman, BUT I think that a great many of the arguments in which we indulge are absurd and useless.

For instance, a great many arguments arise simply because the two parties do not define in the same way the words and phrases which they use. Recourse to the dictionary would nip a large proportion of arguments right in the bud.

Take for example the celebrated argument upon which most of us have wrangled,—if a tree falls in the center of a forest miles away from any human being, does it make a sound or not? I have heard two people argue a half hour on that, and yet it is not a matter to be settled by expressions of opinions and arguments at all. It is simply a question as to the definition of sound. Apply to old Noah Webster and he will settle it in thirty seconds.

Again, arguments between people of opposite temperaments on matters which are simply questions of opinion are decidedly futile.

For a passionate, radical and a dyed-in-the-wool conservative to argue upon some question which is simply a matter of opinion, is futile on the face of it, and yet how many people waste time and temper that way. Make up your mind before engaging in an argument whether your opponent is of an antagonistic temperament. If he is, you may argue questions of fact, but not of opinion and theory.

Again, I hate an argument where either one argues just for the sake of talking, has no convictions, doesn't really know his facts, would say anything, however false he knew it to be, for the sake of helping his argument, and would just as leave have taken the other side as not. I think now that I regret calling argument a game, for that implies that one should argue to win. On the contrary, any fair-minded man argues for the sake of getting at the truth, and the man who argues simply to win is showing a good broad streak of yellow.

It is good to know how to argue, it is better to know when to argue. It is good to know how to win an argument, it is far better to know how to lose one.

Banana Custard Pie.

Materials—Large banana, 1; sugar, 1-2 c.; milk, 1 c.; cream, 1-1/2 c.; flour, 2-1/2 t.; lemon juice, 1 t.; eggs, 2; salt, pastry.

Utensils—Measuring cup, tablespoon, pie pan, egg beater, double boiler.

Directions—Mix sugar, flour and salt together in the double boiler and add the yolks well beaten; pour over the hot milk gradually, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens; cook 10 or 15 minutes, but stirring constantly until the mixture thickens; afterwards only occasionally. Cool and add the cream, whipped or plain, lemon juice and banana, sliced very thin. In the meantime have a pastry shell which has been baked on the inverted pie pan and turned carefully onto a plate. Fill with the custard and cover with a meringue made from the whites of two eggs beaten stiff and two tablespoonsful of powdered sugar, and lemon extract one-fourth teaspoonful. Set in a moderate oven to brown.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

A COMMON friendship, who talks of a common friendship. There is no such thing in the world. On earth no word is more sublime.

FOR THE LENTEN TABLE.

If the Lenten season were observed by all creeds it would be better for the general health. A few weeks of fasting, or going without heavy meals, is a wholesome and advantageous thing. We are all too much inclined to self-indulgence, and cutting out food is a wise arrangement.

Spanish Hash.—Chop three or four cold potatoes, a slice of onion and a green pepper. Season with salt, pepper and a dash of mace; bind together with a beaten egg and bake in a buttered pan until brown. Serve with macaroni.

Tomatoes and Eggs.—Put two table-spoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, and when melted add a cupful of the thicker part of a can of tomatoes; the juice may be used in a sauce for meat or for soup. Season with salt, red pepper, a teaspoon of sugar and a little grated onion. Stir until hot, then add four eggs beaten enough to mix the whites and yolks. When the eggs are cooked serve on buttered toast.

Cheese Pie.—To a cup of cream cheese pressed through a sieve, add a tablespoonful of sugar, the juice of a lemon, also the rind, a tablespoonful of butter, melted, the yolks of two eggs well beaten and the beaten whites folded in at the last. Salt to taste, and bake in one crust.

Fish Salads.—Cook together over hot water a tablespoonful of flour, a teaspoonful each of salt, mustard, sugar and melted butter, a dust of cayenne, a third of a cup of mild vinegar and the beaten yolks of two eggs. Stir until smooth and thick, and heat while cooling. Separate into small flakes, any cold fish, add a little lemon juice and let stand an hour. Stir with a fork, add the salad dressing and a half cup of whipped cream. Place in small molds, if desired, and chill. Garnish with a sprig of parsley.

Fruit Cocktail.

Material—Grapefruit, 1; oranges, 2; Malaga grapes, 1-1/2 lb.; banana, 1; lemon juice, maraschino juice and cherries.

Utensils—Bowl, vegetable knife, lemon squeezer, cocktail glasses.

Directions—Cut the grapefruit in halves and carefully remove the pulp; drain; remove the pulp from the oranges in the same manner and put both into the bowl and sprinkle a very little sugar and lemon juice over them. Skin and seed the grapes and add to fruit in the bowl, also the banana, peeled, scraped and halved and cut in very thin slices. Now cover all with the grape fruit juice and a tablespoonful or two of sherry or maraschino; cover and chill for one

Globe-Trotting at Home

YOU know I have been perfectly crazy to go around the world," said Phoebe, as she breezed into the studio. "But I have just found out how to go around the world at home."

"Movies," suggested one.

"No, though they help. But I dropped into a little tailor shop where I have my suit pressed, and I stumbled on to a wildly demonstrative scene. The woman's husband has been to the war in the Balkans. They are Bulgarians, it seems, though I never knew it before, and he had just got back. And such kissing and exclamations and wild gestures you never saw nor heard. Of course, I was tremendously interested, and he told me all about it. I have been fighting the Turk, and clambering down mountain passes, and besieging Adrianople, and doing all sorts of wonderfully adventurous things, all to the tune of the most outlandish language and the wildest gestures you ever could conceive. I don't wonder the allies were victorious. If they talked and flung their arms around as that man did, I don't blame the Turks for running."

"Then as I came down here," went on Phoebe, "I passed an Italian's fruit stand. The woman was attending to it, and a little fat, rollicking baby was rolling around on the street. I stopped to buy some apples—here they are, have some—just to hear her talk. I said it was a lovely spring day, and that I didn't believe Italy could beat this. And then I had Italy pictured to me, its mountains, and olive trees, and blue seas, and soft airs. She was terribly homesick, poor woman, but her 'man' won't go back. He is making too much money here."

"Tomorrow, I think I'll invade the Chinese quarter, and learn about the Flowery Kingdom; and I'm going to draw out Pat who does our gardening, and hear about the wonders of the Emerald Isle. Why, the whole world is right here at our door! And when you see it through the eyes of its inhabitants, and hear about it straight from their hearts, you are getting a light on it quite different from what you would have, if you just looked at it with your own eyes from a sight-seeing bus, or a car window."

"Let's arrange globe-trotting parties for seeing the world in back alleys," suggested one of the girls.

"Well, there really is more of the world right about us, than many of us realize," concluded Phoebe.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—What is a nice way to make a hat for work that is quite fashionable to wear in summer? (2)—What kind of a hat for dress occasions? (3)—Are red sailor hats to be worn this summer? (4)—

What is a nice way for a girl of 47 to wear her hair if a pompadour does not look well on her? (5)—Is lemon juice good for whitening the complexion? (6)—I have little red veins on my nose and cheeks which make my nose look very red at times. How can I remove them? (7)—I have very small eyes. How can I make them look large? (8)—I have a very large pore on my face which makes me look quite old. Have tried doing for it; it made a brown stain on it which does not want to come off. How can I remove it? (9)—Do amber beads remove goitre? (10)—

What kind of dresses should a girl wear for work she does not look well in waist and skirt, and what color and style should they be? (11)—Are sweaters to be worn this spring? Select a large carrot scoop out the center, string a cord through the two sides of the top and tie to the curtain rod in the kitchen window.

Put water every day in the center and soon some pretty shoots will be spreading around the carrot.

The Table.

Beef Pudding—Mix together one pound beef ground fine, one cup bread crumbs, two beaten eggs, one table-spoon butter, one-half onion chopped fine; season with salt and pepper. Bake in loaf. Serve with tomato sauce.

Sour or Sweet Apples are good prepared in the following way: Put a little butter and lard in a skillet, brown flour in same, after which pour over the water and place sliced apples in; season to the taste.

Ham Baked in Milk (delicious)—Get slice of ham about 1 1/2 inches thick, place in shallow pan and cover with milk. Bake in slow oven until ham is a light brown on top. Gravy is made by adding milk to the grease in pan after ham has been removed; thicken with flour.

Delicious Cake Filling—Unbeaten whites of an egg, grated apple, one-half cup of sugar. Beat this until it becomes light and feathery like whipped cream. Tastes better than whipped cream and is a great deal cheaper.

Sadiron Rest—Drive a number of large tacks into ironing board near the end, in an oval shape, about the size of your sadiron. Then drive another row of taller ones around the outside, so the iron will not slip when set down. Those in center should be driven in about half way and about one inch apart.

When Shoe Lace breaks and there is not another at hand, do not tie it or throw it away, but lap the broken ends an inch or so and stitch together on sewing machine; will be as good as new, as it will slip through the eyelets. Can do the same with corset laces.

Care of Gold Fish.

Change all water in aquarium once a month. Take fish out, wash aquarium, rinse shells and put in fresh water.

Every other day take out a tin cupful and put back a cupful of fresh water.

Feed every other day by giving a piece one-half inch square of the prepared fish food.

The aquarium should always contain some aquaria plant.

Material—Bananas, 6; current jelly, 1-2 glass; butter, 1 t.; sherry, 2 t.
Utensils—Silver knife, tablespoon, teaspoon, casserole.

Directions—Peel and cut the bananas in halves crosswise and then in halves lengthwise and separate. Put a layer in the bottom of the casserole. Some Good Recipes With the Banana.

Bananas have made their way, struggling hard many times for a place on the bill of fare in the home. Many authorities, however, give to the banana much importance in food value when used very ripe, not soft, but when the skin is of a rich yellow and brown mottled appearance, and no green in sight, not even at the tips. For children in particular the digestion is hastened by cooking, but if perfectly ripe are good food for them not cooked. The improvements in cultivation also are an inducement for their use, as the quality and means of transportation grows better each year. There are two special kinds, the red and white, the former being very fine in flavor, but are not so plentiful as the white or yellow ones.

Bananas may be used in a variety of ways, uncooked, sliced with oranges and grated coconut; sliced very thin and served with cream and powdered or fruit sugar; added with other fruits, sliced or cut in cubes, to lemon jelly and set in a cold place to harden; salads and ice cream.

A New Method of Baking Cakes

Mrs. Nevada Briggs, the baking expert, says:

"There is just one way to make your cakes rise high and evenly—give them time to rise before a crust is formed and the batter is stiffened by cooking."

"If using a gas, gasoline or oil stove, light your oven when you put the cake in and keep the flame low until the cake has doubled in bulk; then increase the heat until it is evenly browned and will respond to the pressure of the finger. If using a coal or wood range, leave the oven door open until the cake is in; then turn on the drafts and by the time the oven is at baking temperature, the cake will have raised sufficiently."

For rich, moist, feathery cakes Mrs. Briggs always recommends

KC BAKING POWDER

It is double acting and sustains the raise. You can open and close the oven door, turn the tin around in the oven or do anything else necessary, without any danger of making the cake fall.

Try your favorite cake next time with K C Baking Powder and see how much higher it will rise. Make it just as you always do, with the same quantity of baking powder. While K C is less expensive than the old fashioned baking powders, it has even greater leavening strength and it is guaranteed pure and healthful.

Make Pots and Pans Spick and Span with GOLD DUST

GOLD DUST

Pots and pans collect more dirt and grease than any other cooking utensil. The one best way of cleaning them is to use Gold Dust. Gold Dust not only takes off the outer dirt coating, but digs deep after germs and hidden particles, and makes them as spotlessly clean and sanitary as when new.

If you want your pots and pans so bright you can see your face in them—your pots and kettles spotless and germ-proof, use Gold Dust in cleaning. It will do the work, too, in half the time of the ordinary cleanser—and save most of your labor. Gold Dust does the bulk of the work alone—you merely assist it.

Gold Dust is sold in 5c and large packages. Buy the large package and practice economy.

You simply cannot keep house properly without Gold Dust.

WARNS SUBSCRIBERS TO PROMPT PAYMENT

Government Postal Authorities Send Out Letter in Regard to Extension of Credit by Newspapers.

The postoffice department of the government is checking up the newspapers about the country, as is shown by the circular letter sent out to publishers under date of the 10th by Third Assistant Postmaster General James J. Britt, which is as follows:

Washington, D. C., March 10, 1913.
Publisher of Janesville Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Sir: Your attention is invited to amended paragraph 3, section 436 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, appearing in the December, 1911, Postal Guide, reading as follows:
"The right of publishers to extend in good faith credit on subscriptions is recognized and will not be abridged, and although all subscriptions are regarded as expiring with the period for which they were obtained, nevertheless, in order to give an opportunity to secure renewals, copies of their publications will be accepted for mailing as to subscribers at the usual second-class rates of postage for a period of one year from the date of expiration; but copies sent to persons after one year from the date of the expiration of their subscriptions, unless such subscriptions be expressly renewed for a definite time, together with an actual payment of subscription or a bona fide promise of payment, will not be accepted at the pound rate, but will be accepted at the transient second-class rate of one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof, prepaid by stamps affixed."

The purpose of this regulation is to give publishers a reasonable opportunity to secure renewals of subscriptions, and at the same time to relieve the postal service of the burden of carrying copies of publications as to subscribers at the usual second-class rates of postage to persons who are not such in fact.
In order that the Department may ascertain whether the regulation is being uniformly complied with, you are requested to furnish, with regard to the circulation of the next issue of your publication, the information asked on the reverse side of this sheet, sending it under cover of the enclosed official envelope, which requires no postage.

Respectfully,
(Signed) JAMES J. BRITT,
Third Assistant Postmaster General.
It will be noticed that the newspaper is not a free agent in the extension of credit and that those who desire to subscribe for their favorite publication must either pay or give a definite order therefor.

MOTHER! WATCH THE CHILDREN'S BOWELS

IF CROSS, SICK, FEVERISH, BILIOUS OR TONGUE IS COATED GIVE DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative physic should always be the first treatment given.

If your child isn't feeling well; resting nicely; eating regularly and acting naturally it is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels are filled with foul constipated waste matter and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or your little one has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, tongue coated; give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, indigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful, besides they dearly love its delicious fig taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—A little given, today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggists for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

The Daily Novelette

WHERE THERE'S A WILL

Outside the jail a coyote bayed to the moon.

"Let's get up a four-handed game of pinocle," suggested the sheriff.

"Can't, got ding it," said Alkali Oscar, "they's only three of us."

It was true. They were but three—the sheriff, Alkali Oscar, and Greasy Bertram, the turnkey. They looked the situation over from every possible angle—the sheriff, Alkali Oscar, and Greasy Bertram; Alkali Oscar, the sheriff and Greasy Bertram; Greasy Bertram, the sheriff and Alkali Oscar; Greasy Bertram, Alkali Oscar and the sheriff—but, turn it how they would, they were but three.

The fact stared them in the face, and they stared back at it.

After a short uncomfortable silence, the sheriff, always a resourceful man, had an idea. He whispered something into one of Alkali Oscar's ears.

Alkali Oscar rose silently, tucked his gun into his holster and sallied forth. (See footnote.)

Hetherington Shads, the tenderfoot, was driving his 19-cylinder Gillette slowly down Boody Gulch avenue.

Because of prairie dogs, the driving was dangerous. A hundred yards from the jail he heard something which said, "Halt, in the name of the law!"

"It was a voice."

"I arrest you for speeding," said Alkali Oscar.

III.

After Hetherington Shads had paid his fine, the four sat down to a game of pinocle.

Out side the jail a coyote bayed to the moon.

(Footnote: Went outside.)

TOBACCO CROP NOW IN DEALERS' HANDS

Growers Have Disposed of 1912 Crop and Are in Good Shape for 1913 Work.

Probably at no time in recent years has the tobacco crop of this state been so closely taken out of growers' hands at so early a date as the present season, says the Edgerton Reporter. It is so rare that packers are able to receive the purchases of any crop before April 1st that the present is an exception to the history of the state. And yet packers will doubtless handle more of the 1912 crop through the warehouses than any of the recent years. The increasing of storage facilities has permitted them to hold larger stocks of bundled goods and conduct the sorting and packing more leisurely than heretofore. So much of the crop came out of the curing sheds at so early a date and ready for delivery that the work of receiving has progressed much more rapidly than usual. The growers have thus been able to realize upon the product and handle the proceeds in good season, and the four or five million dollars received for it distributed about the various sections has helped to swell the bank accounts of the thousands of farmers who are making tobacco growing one of the most profitable branches of agriculture. Mighty few growers in Wisconsin will start in another season with any tobacco on hand, and with an excellent prospect in view that the coming crop under normal conditions will be wanted at a good, profitable figure. Under such a showing the intended average the coming season might reasonably be increased.

TOWNSHIPS TO VOTE ON STATE ROAD AID

Highway Commission Sends Out Form of Resolution for Making Application to State.

The state highway commission is sending out to town chairmen and town clerks a form of resolution for voting state aid and road and bridge taxes for work to be constructed in 1914. These taxes must be voted at this spring's town meeting on April 1 or at a special meeting held before September 1st.

The commission points out that the legislature has passed almost unanimously the bill making good the $450,000 deficit in state aid for this year's work, which indicates that its policy toward adequate appropriations for 1914 and 1915 will be a generous one.

It is customary to vote state aid taxes by resolution at the same hour that other town business is taken up and not to vote by ballot, though both courses are legal.

It is believed that votes for state aid in 1914 will show an increase over the votes for 1913, which were almost double those for 1912. The movement for better roads in Wisconsin is gaining tremendous impetus under the new state aid law, and it is now the leading state in the middle west in modern road and bridge construction.

ONCE DESPISED WEED IS PROVED VALUABLE

Farmers Find Sweet Clover Useful in Inoculating Soil for Growing of Alfalfa—Clover Seed Reasonable.

Again has been proved the truth of the saying that a weed is only a plant the utility of which has not been discovered. One of the most recent to pass out of the more weed classification is sweet clover. This plant which has infested the roadsides with its rank, luxuriant growth, has been found to be very effective in obtaining a stand of alfalfa, a near cousin, as plant relationships go. Janesville seed dealers are selling sweet clover seed for this purpose, the prices running from seventeen to twenty cents a pound.

There are two methods by which sweet clover is used to inoculate the soil for alfalfa. One is to sow the sweet clover seed alone or with grain, cut the hay, plow the ground, and then sow it to alfalfa. The other method is to sow the sweet clover seed with the alfalfa seed in a ratio of approximately ten pounds of the one to fifteen pounds of the other. This method of inoculation is recommended by the experimental stations and is said to be very successful, alfalfa growing wherever sweet clover does. Sweet clover also makes good hay the first year.

Clover seed is more reasonable in price than a year ago and is in good demand. Most of it is domestic grown. Alfalfa seed from Montana is favored as being the most hardy and adaptable to Wisconsin soil and climate. The demand for timothy seed is slow but better than was expected as the price is very low in consequence of the heavy crop last year.

Garden makers are already purchasing cabbage and tomato seed to start their hot-beds.

The meeting adjourned after these topics were given.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

"THE NEW FREEDOM."

The above is the title of a new book by President Wilson. His dominant idea is that business should be emancipated and the avenues of opportunity opened to all men as they were in our early history.

There is a new freedom that is yet wider.

In the past we have been slaves to many things that could have been banished by a proper exercise of reason and will power.

We have been slaves to ignorance.

In this age of public and private schools, colleges, universities, libraries, newspapers, magazines, public lectures, churches, study clubs, instructive entertainments and the thousand and one other agencies for imparting information and culture there is no excuse for any human being to remain in ignorance. Intelligence is the great emancipator. The truth shall make us free.

We have been slaves to prejudice.

Prejudice is but another name for narrowness, for lack of information, for provincialism, for egotism, for the absence of sympathy and understanding. If the prejudice is against a person it would probably be dispelled if we knew this person better. If it is against some new idea it usually argues that we have not advanced sufficiently to see what this idea means. In any case it hurts only ourselves. It but advertises our own limitations. We should ever be open to the truth and accept it from whatever source it comes.

We have been slaves to our appetites.

The appetites have a beneficent function. They are given us for the preservation of our individual lives and the life of the race. We should use them with temperance and sanity for those functions. Beyond this we should be free from them. They have no power over us except what we ourselves give them. Rightly controlled they contribute to our own happiness and do not interfere with the happiness of others. The body should be a servant, not a master.

We have been slaves to false habits, to imaginary ailments, to real ailments that could have been overcome by right thinking, will power and correct living.

The hour of our emancipation has come, and we are our own liberators.

The sovereign spirit of man is too big for such petty bondage.

Come up into the free air and let the self imposed shackles drop away.

Runaway.

"I think old fellow," began Mr. Farmlayman, "it is time you were beginning to hunt for a wife."

"To hunt for one?" replied the highly eligible bachelor. "You mean it is time I gave up avoiding one and allowed myself to be captured."

PUTS AN END TO BACKACHE QUICKLY CURES WEAK KIDNEYS

A Few Doses Give Relief, Helps Lifeless Organs Regain Health Strength and Activity.

It is useless, dangerous, and unnecessary to be tortured with the digging, twisting pains of backache and rheumatism, or suffer with disagreeable kidney and bladder disorders any longer.

The new discovery, Croxone, provides a remedy which every sufferer can now depend upon to promptly and surely relieve all such misery and bring about a speedy cure.

Croxone cures these troubles because it quickly overcomes the very cause of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the membranes and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands;

filter and sift from the blood all the waste and poisonous matter that clog the system and cause such troubles.

It does not matter whether you have but slight symptoms or the most chronic, aggravated case of kidney, bladder trouble, or rheumatism that it is possible to imagine, for the very principle of Croxone is such that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you the first time you use it, and all the misery and suffering that go with such troubles end.

You can secure an original package of Croxone from any first class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase "Really does" but bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pope's Diapiesin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, indigested food and acid, head is dizzy and aches; breath foul, tongue is coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pope's Diapiesin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or night.

It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

Mr. Mitchell of Milwaukee was a business caller here Wednesday.

Miss Hazel Driver came home from Johnston where she teaches and will have a week's vacation.

"Really does" but bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pope's Diapiesin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, indigested food and acid, head is dizzy and aches; breath foul, tongue is coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous and the joy is its harmlessness.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or night.

It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

MRS. WM. ARCHER

Tells Mothers What To Do For Delicate Children.

"My fourteen year old daughter was very thin and delicate. She had a bad cough so that I became very much alarmed about her health. She was nervous and did not sleep well, had very little appetite and doctors did not help her. Having heard so much about Vinol, I decided to give it a trial. It has helped her wonderfully. She can sleep all night now without coughing once, in fact her cough is gone. Her appetite is greatly improved and she has gained weight. Vinol is a wonderful medicine and I will always keep it in the house. I wish every mother knew what Vinol will do for delicate children." Mrs. Wm. Archer, Long Branch, N. J.

This delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil is a wonderful body builder and strength creator for both young and old. We promise to give back your money in every case where Vinol does not benefit. This shows our faith in Vinol. Smith Drug Co., Jansville, Wis.

Granted Insurance After Consumption

"There are so many cases of Consumption reported where the details show the disease started with a cold or cough, that it is really surprising that people are not more anxious to immediately stop these apparently minor troubles. Our advice is 'stop the cough or cold, if possible, without delay.' Otherwise more serious troubles are likely to follow. If the medicines you are now taking do not bring relief, try Eckman's Alternative, as this man did."

257 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: I am giving you below a brief history of my case, which I trust you will use for the benefit of those suffering from any similar troubles. 'About a year and a half ago I noticed that my health was getting weaker and at the end of six months my weight had fallen to 125 pounds. I was troubled with night sweats, a severe cough and was very weak, having in fact absolutely no ambition whatever. About this time I consulted a physician who told me my lungs were affected. Not satisfied I went to another doctor, who after examining me said that I was in the first stages of consumption. At this point I started to take Eckman's Alternative. The night sweats stopped almost immediately, my cough became less and gradually disappeared. My weight is now 142 pounds and my physician has pronounced me perfectly sound—which, together with the fact that I have been accepted by two different insurance companies for insurance, makes me sure of my future. I should be very glad to communicate with any one who would be interested in my case."

(Signed) Abbott E. G. G. Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recovery, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more details. The STOLEN SINGER

by MARTHA DELLINGER

Copyright 1913 by J. P. Baker & Son

He lay down; face to the sky, and gave himself up to thoughts that were very dark indeed. He had been thrown down, unexpectedly and quite hard, and that was all there was to it. Agatha, lovely but inexplicable maid, was not for him. She had been receptive—yes, that was the word; and he had been a fool—that was the plain truth. He might as well face it at once. He had been idiot enough to think he might win the girl, just because they had been tossed together in mid-ocean and she had clung to him. The world wasn't an ocean; it was a spiritual stock-exchange, where he who would win must bid very high indeed for the prizes of life. And he had so little to bid!

Communicating thus with his unhappiness, Jim utterly lost the sense of time. The shameless vermilion sunset went into second mourning and thence to nun's gray, before the figure on the sail-cloth moved. Then, through senses only half awake, Jim heard a light sound, like a scratch-scratch on the hull of the yacht. Chamberlain, no doubt, just rubbing the nose of his tender against the Sea Gull. Jim was in no hurry to see Chamberlain, and remained where he was. The Englishman would leave in sight soon enough.

But though Jim waited several minutes, with half an eye cocked on the stairway, nobody appeared. The wind was still, the sea like glass; not a sound anywhere. Struck by something of strangeness in the uncanny silence, Jim sat up and called "Aho, Chamberlain!" There was no answer. But in the tepid stillness there was a sound, and it came from below—the sound of a man's stealthy tread.

Jim sprang to his feet and made the companionway at a bound. He listened an instant to make sure that he heard true, cleared the steps, and landed in the darkness of the ship's saloon. As he groined along, reaching for the door of the principal cabin, the blackness suddenly lighted a little, and a dim shadow shot out and up the stairway. Jim's physical senses were scarcely cognizant of the soft, quick passing, but his thumbs pricked. He dashed after the shadow, up the stairs, out on deck, and aft. There he was—Chatterlain, armed, facing his enemy once more, cool but not smiling, desperately at bay. Below him, riding just under the stern of the yacht, was the tender whose scratch-scratch had awakened Jim. A man, oars in hand, was holding the boat close to the Sea Gull.

Jim saw all this during the seconds between his turning at the stair-top and his throwing himself plump against the figure by the railing. He was quick enough to pass the range of the weapon, whose shot rang out in the clear air, but he was not quick enough to get under the man's guard. Chatterlain was ready for him, holding his weapon high.

As he pressed forward, Jim felt something under his foot. He ducked quickly, as if to dodge Chatterlain's hand, and on the downward swing he picked up the rusty marlinpike. It was a weapon of might, indeed, Jim's blow caused Chatterlain's arm to drop, limp and nerveless. But in gaining his enemy's weapon, Jim was forced to drop his own. He put a firm foot upon the spike, however, while he held Chatterlain at arm's length and looked into his face.

"So we meet once more, after all!" he cried. "And once more I have the pistol." Even as Jim spoke, his adversary made a spring that almost enabled him to seize the weapon again. Jim eluded his clutch, and quick as thought threw the gun overboard. It struck far out on the smooth water.

It was a sorry thing to do, as it proved, for Chatterlain, watching his chance, stooped, wrenched the spike from under Jim's foot, and once more stood defiantly at bay. And at this point, he opened his thin lips for one remark.

"You'll go to hell now, you pig of an American!"

"But after you, Monsieur!" Jim cried, and with the words, his arms were about the other in a paralyzing grip.

Had Jim been as strong as when the two men measured forces weeks before, in the fo'castle of the Jeanne D'Arc, the result might have been different. But the struggle was too long, and Jim's strength insufficient. Chatterlain freed himself from his antagonist sufficiently to wield the spike somewhere about Jim's head, and there came over him a sickening consciousness that he was going down. He dropped, hanging like a bulldog to Chatterlain's knees, but he knew he had lost the game. He gathered himself momentarily, determined to get on his feet once more, and had almost done it, when sounds of approaching voices mingled with the scuffle of their feet and their quick breathing. Before Jim could see what new thing was happening, Chatterlain had turned for one instant toward the port side, whence the invading voices came. He was cut off from the stairway, caught in the stern of the yacht; his weapon gone. He gave a quick call in a low voice to the boat below, stepped over the taffrail and then leaped overboard.

Propped up on an elbow, dazed and half blinded, blood flowing down his cheek, Jim stretched forward dizzily, as if to follow his disappearing enemy. He heard the splash of the water, and saw the rowboat move out from under the stern, but he saw no more. He thought it must have grown very dark.

When Jimmy regained sight and consciousness, which happened not more than three minutes after he lost them, he found himself supported affectionately against somebody's shoulder, and a voice—the voice of all voices he most loved—was in his ears.

"Here I am, dear. Do not die! I have come—come to stay, if you want me, James, dearest!" And bending over him was a face—the very Vision of his dream. "Look at me, speak to me, James, dear!"

The voice was a bit hysterical, but the face was eloquent, loving, adoring. It was too good to be true, though Jim was disposed to let the illusion prolong itself as far as possible. He put up his hand and smoothed her face gently, in gratitude at seeing it kind once more. Then he smiled foolishly.

"It's great, isn't it?" he remarked inanely, before thinking it necessary to remove his hand. Her face was still the face of tenderness, full of yearning. It did not change. She took a handkerchief from her pocket and carefully pressed it to his cheek and chin. When she took it away, he saw that it was red.

"Lord, what a mess I'm making!" he exclaimed, trying at last to sit up. As he did so, it all came back to him—the flying shadow, the gun, the struggle. He leaned over to peer again through the crossed wires of the deck railing, down into the water. He turned back with an amazed expression.

"Did he jump overboard, honest-truth, hanging on to that spike?" Neither Aleck nor Agatha could say, nor yet Mr. Chamberlain, who had been searching the yacht. Wherever it was, the rusty marlinpike had disappeared. The rowboat, too, had gone into the darkness. Jim got up, dazedly thinking for a moment that it was necessary for him to give chase, but he quickly sat down on the sail-cloth again, overcome by faintness and a dark pall before his eyes.

"You are not hurt badly?" The voice was still tender, and it was all for him! As Jim heard it, the pall lifted, and his buoyant spirit came back to its own. He laughed faintly.

"Lord, no, not hurt. But—"

"But what? What did you wish to say?"

"Is it true? Are you here, by me, to stay?"

For answer she pressed his hand to her lips.

Aleck and Chamberlain, once as-

Jesus at Bethany

By REV. JAMES M. GRAY, D.D., Dean of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—"There they made him a supper."—John XII, 2.

It is the last week of Jesus' early life, and he is spending the days in Jerusalem and the nights in Bethany—the home of Lazarus and his sisters, Martha and Mary.

"There they made him a supper." An exquisite touch of Christ's humanity! Is not this what we would have done to such a friend?

But think of the human kindness and simplicity of the Redeemer here displayed! It recalls the marriage in Cana at which he was a guest. That was at the beginning of his ministry and this at its close. How better could he have demonstrated that he came into the world not to disturb its social arrangements or mar its domestic joys, but to elevate them to a higher plane? Blessed be God, we may have Jesus at our feasts and festivals as well as at other times, and what heart, loving Jesus, would attend a feast or festival where he could not be a guest?

The Devoted Mary and the Avaricious Judas.

The central feature of this supper is the anointing of Jesus by the devoted Mary. The action was not uncommon in eastern lands, where the heat is great and the feet exposed to it by sandals suffer from dryness and scorching. The motive of Mary was her love for Jesus. Love, not only for what she had learned from him, but for what he had done for her brother Lazarus, whom he raised from the dead. All of which comes out the stronger in contrast with the fanaticism and avarice of Judas. "Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?" A specimen this of the way worldly people depreciate actions done for the love of God only, and especially giving money for Christ's cause. Judas said this, not because "he cared for the poor," John says, "but because he was a thief and had the bag and bare what was put therein." He was thinking of himself and not the poor.

The truest friends of the poor, the people who do most for them, are those who do most for Christ. "It is," says Bishop Ryle, "the successors of Mary of Bethany, and not of Judas Iscariot, who really care for the poor." As another says, even if Judas had said this from the heart it would have been wrong. It does not follow that the poor will not be benefited, because the rich live according to their means.

Social Distinctions to Remain.

But how significant that remark of Jesus, "the poor always ye have with you." How clearly it teaches that distinctions of class and rank will never cease in the present age. It was never intended that society should become a macadamized road where all are on a level. The existence of pauperism alone does not prove that states are ill-governed, or churches are not doing their duty. This separation between rich and poor which Jesus made was opposed to the spirit of Christ, for in the true veneration of his name consists the most effectual caring for the poor. It is important, to keep this in mind in this humanitarian age when the gospel of good works (so called) is so persistently thrust into the foreground in opposition to the gospel of faith. Poverty is forever at our heels, but Christ in the meanwhile may be vanishing away. How significant, "Me ye have not always." Oh, let us take it to heart! Him we have no longer when the wings of death suddenly overshadow us; or when our senses depart under the influence of disease, and the message of salvation no longer penetrates through the crowd of unbridled imaginations. We have him no longer when God gives us up to strong delusions, and permits them to take their permanent abode in our minds, because we have hardened ourselves against his calls to repentance.

Patience.
All things come to him who waits, including invitations to his best girl's wedding.—Puck.

The Test of Abraham's Faith. Gen. xlii:1-10.

Golden Text—I desire goodness, and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. Hos. vi:6.

(1) Verse 1—How many meanings are there for the word tempt, and in what sense did God tempt Abraham? (2) Abraham had passed through some wonderful tests of his faith; what does it suggest that God tested him still further?

(3) Would you say or not, and why, that tests of our faith will continue as long as we live? (4) Verse 2—Would you say or not that God told Abraham to offer up his son Isaac as a burnt offering, or that Abraham only thought he did? Why?

(5) Should we in thought allow God the right to tell us to do wrong? Give your reasons. (6) If under what seems to be deep religious emotion we feel that God is telling us to lie, steal or violate the Christian standard of virtue, or do anything else which we believe to be wrong, should we obey the feeling or at once banish it as a temptation of the Devil? Why?

(7) How may we assuredly distinguish the voice of God from every other spiritual influence?

(8) Verse 3—If we are verily assured that God tells us to do a thing, are we under obligation to do it no matter what the consequences may be? Give your reasons.

(9) What would you suppose Abraham's thoughts were while on this three days' journey to the place where he was going to kill and then to offer up his son to God as a burnt offering? (10) If Abraham were now living, can you conceive of his having a command from God to slay his son?

(11) Verses 4-6—What would appear to be Abraham's motive in not allowing his servants to accompany him and Isaac to the place of the proposed burnt offering?

(12) Verses 7-10—It was a custom of the Semitic races to offer up their firstborn, their most loved child, as a sacrifice to God; would you think it probable that Abraham got the suggestion to offer up Isaac from this source? Why?

(13) Suppose Abraham was mistaken as to the origin of his purpose to offer up Isaac. To what extent would that alter your opinion of the sublimity of his character, and the strength of this test of his faith?

(14) What reason, if any, is there to suppose that Abraham had informed Isaac of what God had commanded him and that he had consented to be the innocent victim?

(15) Put yourself in Abraham's place and say how your faith would be tested and how many objections there would be to believe that God had commanded you to offer up your Isaac?

(16) If Abraham had actually slain and offered up Isaac would he have been the admiration or the execration of Christian people?

(17) Verses 11-12—What proportion of the dreadful things that sometimes oppress us like a horrible nightmare does God allow to actually happen?

(18) Why may we rest in the perfect assurance that God will never cause us to do any deed contrary to the law of love?

(19) Verses 13-19—What does this ram that was caught in the thicket teach us concerning God always coming to our rescue?

(20) After several tests of his faith what always happens to the faithful who are true to the voice of God in his soul? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Must You Be Bald?

What have you done to stop your hair from falling? Have you tried Rexall "93" Hair Tonic? If not, we want you to try it at our risk.

If you have dandruff, if your hair is falling out, and your scalp is not glazed and shiny, if you use Rexall "93" Hair Tonic according to directions for thirty days, and at the end of that time you are not thoroughly satisfied with the results and will tell us so, we will immediately hand back your money. We won't ask you to promise anything. We won't even question you. We will take your mere word and return your money.

Doesn't it stand to reason that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic must be a mighty good remedy and have given great satisfaction to our customers if we endorse it like this? We know of no similar remedy that is as good. It is because of what Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has done for others that we back it with our own money.

Why suffer scalp and hair trouble or be bald, when Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will remove dandruff, make your scalp comfortable and healthy, promote hair growth and tend to prevent baldness—when we will pay for the treatment should it fail to please you?

We don't obligate you to anything. You simply buy the treatment; use it, and if not pleased, come back to us empty-handed—and we will hand back what you paid us.

Two sizes, 60c and $1.00 a bottle.

You can buy Rexall "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our store.

"Monsieur does not recognize me," replied the pupil. "I am monsieur's chauffeur, and I always wait here until monsieur has finished his lecture."

"What's the matter little boy?" inquired the kindly old lady.

"I jes lost five cents," replied the little boy, who was crying bitterly.

"Well, there's five cents more for you, so don't cry. How did you lose it?"

"I lost it pitchin' pennies."

Reminiscence Not Pleasing.

Once while canvassing his state during a political season, John Quincy Adams was approached by a well-to-do farmer, who introduced himself and said: "Mr. Adams, I'm glad to meet you; my wife remembers you well; she was in your family when you were a boy, and often combed your hair." "Well," said Mr. Adams, sharply, "I suppose she combs yours now."

Her intent.

"That dressmaker's model always wears a long wrap when she goes out." "Hers is evidently a sinister motive. She wants to cloak her designs."

Freckle-Face

February and March Bring Out Unsightly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face? Simply get an ounce of ointment, double strength, from Badger Drug Co., and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds in February and March have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more ointment is sold in these months. Be sure to ask for the double strength ointment, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.
